Fitchburg High School

Class of 2010,

On behalf of the entire staff, I would like to thank you for an exciting and productive school year at Fitchburg High School. This senior class has set standards extremely high in terms of academic achievement, community service and social responsibility. You are impressive positive role models for all classes to follow. You have heeded the advice of classroom teachers, administrators and parents and have successfully found a balance between academic pursuits and interest in a variety of co-curricular activities. Your enthusiasm and passion have left this high school a richer and better place. Now as proud alumni of FHS, leave here knowing you exceeded expectations and did not disappoint.

Look at this graduation as the "end of your beginning" as you go forth and carve out a life for yourself. Whether your future involves college, further training within the work place, or entry into a branch of the military, pursue your dreams with passion, set high expectations for yourself, and set goals of making your environment a better place. This is only the beginning of a long list of future accomplishments that await you. Work hard, be compassionate human beings, and set examples that will someday make your own children proud.

It is fairly easy to do the right thing when everybody is watching, but the true quality of one's character is best determined by doing the right thing when no one is watching. Keep doing things right and treat the world as your classroom, squeezing as much life as possible out of every day and making sure you finish each one on empty!!!

Congratulations, good luck, and God Bless the Class of 2010!!!!

Sincerely,

Richard D. Masciarelli
Principal

"Live life to the fullest."

It seems like just yesterday I was a freshman coming to this new big school. I never thought I'd be a senior and graduate. It's hard to believe that I'll be going to college. I want to thank my parents, whom I love very much and wouldn't be here were it not for their encouragement and love. Another thanks to my friends for making high school interesting: Catara, Sky, Sierra J, and Aritha D; love you girls! Special thanks to Jessica who, without her, I'd not have had the courage or be driven to graduate. Thanks for being a great role model. Go 20X!!

I've never been too popular in high school, getting by with little to no friends, but I think I turned out fine. If you were lucky enough to get to know me, you would find that I'm quite entertaining to interact with. My expanded sense of humor is rather noticeable when I get around to talking, though I'm usually quiet and an outcast of every social clique in school. If I'm remembered, I'm likely to be known as that girl sleeping in class, or that weird person shouting random things at lunch. Hey, at least I'll be remembered!

It's been a great four years here at FHS. Four years that came dangerously close to being cut short. I'm glad to have had the chance to spend these last two years with all of you, rather than moving to Peru as I was. We were all convinced I would. Peru's a part of my future, there's no doubt about it. But for now, let's enjoy the present and all the great people in it. Forever yours, now and forever.

I've made stupid mistakes. I've been involved in stupid drama. I've hurt people's feelings, and I've been hurt. I've cried my heart out. I've done things I regret. I've also made friends with the greatest people on the planet. I've laughed until I couldn't breathe. I've gone on sleepovers and sung duets. I've lived more in these four years than I did my entire life before high school. Thank you.

I can't say high school was the most difficult or the easiest time in my life, I'm only seventeen, but I can say it was a very interesting four years, and it was only made better with the help of AK, KCC, KC, SO, and RB. they were all there to help me whenever I needed it. I also know that high school would have been so different if I didn't have the help from my mom, my amazing family or the best math teacher ever, Katie Schmitt, so high school is over, now bring on college. The past four years at FHS have been a growing experience for me. I came here as a shy, quiet freshman that didn't know people. My friends, Kaitlin and Danny, have been there since day one. My other friend, Jay, has been there since we were little. With their support and the support of my teachers my growth has occurred quicker than I expected. My teachers have pushed me to my fullest potential. I am leaving FHS as a senior who is still quiet by nature but isn't as afraid to speak. Thank you Fitchburg High School. Life is more than the things you do. It's the emotions you feel, the impact you make and the memories you have. Nothing should be more important than what is inside you at any given moment. Man, I can't believe it's my last year of high school. High school went by so fast. The things I'm going to miss are my school friends and the teachers. Some students say they can't wait to graduate, but really don't. You want to graduate, but then once you do, you want to go back because you miss your friends. The one big thing I'm going to miss is the fun I had in class. I didn't really want to be in any activities because I felt my education was more important. High school has taught me a lot, too. Maybe it won't be so bad after I graduate.

"A picture is worth a thousand words."

I just wanted to say thank you to all the teachers I've had throughout the years who helped me succeed as a person to learn and to think much more clearly. In the beginning, when I started here, I didn't work much on my school studies. But every day my surroundings and school environment convinced me that I don't want to be a nobody, so I'll give back to my community some time in the near future and put my skills to reality. That's why I think a picture is worth a thousand words because you can overlook some people so easily and not think twice about them. I thought twice about school.

"The elephant is large.
Take one bite at a time."

The passage of time is a strange thing. Hours can inch by as though there is no end to the day, while years slip through our fingers like grains of sand. For me, high school has been one such experience. It seemed as though I were dragging my feet towards some distant future which would never manifest itself. Yet now, looking back, I wonder where all that time went. I feared that it might be time wasted, but this has not proved true. For all the people, the experiences, the trials and triumphs which have made this chapter of my life what it is, I am eternally grateful.

Equestrian 1,2,3,4; Volleyball 1; TV/Film 1,2,3,4

Phat Farms were in.
Everyone had Pokemon & Yugioh cards.
Furbees were popular.
Everyone watched 'Hey Arnold'.
We cooked with our Easy Bake Ovens.
Everyone read Captain Underpants.
We all watched the Magic School Bus.
We didn't need 978 before dialing a phone number.
Everyone had beepers.
Gel Pens were in, and used everywhere.
We used to buy things from the School Store.
"My mom will bring us, if your mom picks us up".
Everyone tucked in the front of their shirts.
We all brought lunchables to school.
We had to walk in single file lines.
We had Recess.
Corey & Topanga were in love.
We had snack time.
We had nap time.
We all made cootie catchers.
We all played four square.
We were all mall rats.
We all loved glow-sticks.

We used AIM to talk online.
You could miss as many school days as you wanted.
Everyone did the cha-cha slide.
There weren't fire drills everyday.
Pogs and Slammers were fun.
Roll-On America was the place to be.
We played MASH to determine our future.
Beanie Babies were big collector items.
We all watched Saturday morning cartoons.
We played "Miss Mary Mack".
You couldn't go anywhere without your Tamagotchi/GiGi pet.
Razor Scooters were way better than bikes.
The most money you ever needed was 5 dollars.
We rode our bikes till the sun came down.
Nintendos were in and PSP's were still non existent.
Yo Yo's were spun up and down till our fingers got numb.
Boom Boxes were with us whenever a summer day was.
Cup Stacking was the coolest thing you could do.
You could never win the bop it toy.
The Rugrats were still babies.
Windbreakers were worn with light up sneakers.
The kids from Rocket Power did the woogie woogie.
You ran like no tomorrow when the ice cream truck came.

RIP
DANNY

1/6/92 - 3/14/09

We will never forget you
We will miss you

"You can shed tears that he is gone,
Or you can smile because he has lived.
You can close your eyes and pray that he'll come back
Or you can open your eyes and see all he's left.
Your heart can be empty because you can't see him
Or you can be full of the love you shared.
You can turn your back on tomorrow and live yesterday
Or you can be happy for tomorrow because of yesterday
You can remember him only that he is gone,
Or you can cherish his memory and let it live on.
You can cry and close your mind,
Be empty and turn your back.
Or you can do what he'd want:
Smile, open your eyes, love and go on."

They say that only the good die young

Remember it's not goodbye, it's see you later.

BIG TIGGA

In Loving Memory
Byron Bryant Teague
March 25, 1990-March 17, 2010

Another day has gone
I'm still all alone
How could this be
You're not here with me
You never said goodbye
Someone tell me why
Did you have to go
And leave my world so cold
Everyday I sit and ask myself
How did love slip away
Something whispers in my ear and says
That you are not alone
For I am here with you
Though you're far away
I am here to stay
But you are not alone
For I am here with you
Though we're far apart
You're always in my heart
But you are not alone.

Senior Class Will

- I, Kimberly Bryce, leave this yearbook to all of you as a memory of all the bliss and drama that the last four years have brought.*
- I, Darcy Durkee, leave my love for yoga pants to the next girl who doesn't want to wake up to get ready for school.*
- I, Quinn Poirier, leave my leggings and Uggs to Slayda.*
- I, Kaitlyn Doyle, leave my Beatles playlist on my ipod to Mrs. Kline.*
- I, Lauren Sweeney, leave my 'potty mouth' to Mr. O'Neill.*
- I, Monica Pearl, leave my enormous amount of tardies to the next late sleeper.*
- I, Theo Demosthenes, leave my sick-nasty musical skills to the next bando prodigy.*
- I, Sarah Schley, leave my tanning sessions to Mr. Dell.*
- I, Erica Dellogono, leave my wedding invitation and messy buns to Mr. Barry Walker.*
- I, Maria Leon, leave my four inch heels and dressy outfits, to the next fashionably challenged girl.*
- I, Leandro Lopez, leave my hair to Mr. Barry Walker.*
- I, Marci Matta, leave all the crazy rules and regulations behind for all FHS students. Enjoy!*
- I, Tiffany Richard, leave my loud mouth for all to fill throughout the hallways when I am gone.*
- I, Katlyn Thibault, leave my borrowed library book "Acting Natural" to the next student with a deep love for theater.*
- I, Amanda Koch, leave my chemistry book to the next chemically challenged student.*
- I, Greg Foster, leave all the drama that high school has brought me to the underclassmen so they may share the pain.*
- I, Stephanie Arnold, leave my bright smile and passion for science to Mr. Scott to pass on to his future students.*
- I, Chris Lawrence, leave my #17 ice hockey jersey to my little cousin.*
- I, Evelyn Island, leave all the drama that high school has to offer to any knucklehead asking for it!*
- I, Rebecca Caldwell, leave my memories with "Ugly Duckling" for the upcoming friends, but will always keep them with me.*
- I, Cody Conrad, leave my luscious bangs to Mr. Dell.*
- I, Katie Golden, leave all my absences to kids who come to school every day. Take a break!*
- I, Jillian Smith, leave my #4 soccer jersey to my little sister, Katelin Smith.*
- I, Sam Posco, leave my hate of public restrooms to the next person who will be "holding it" for the next four years.*
- I, Marissa Binall, leave the job of sharpening Vac's pencils every day instead of going to gym to the next lucky lazy student.*
- I, Jesenia Sanchez, leave my sweetheart attitude to the upcoming freshmen.*
- I, Karrysa Carlson, leave my procrastinating until the last second to the next crazy person who wants to stay up all night.*
- I, Jameson Quirk, leave my spot in the honeycomb hideout to Dan Finn and Brandon Davis.*
- I, Tyler Boudreau, leave the spikes I used in my final cross country race to Dan Finn.*
- I, Scott Normandin, leave the front bumper of my car.*
- I, Christopher Thibodeau, leave my compulsively organized prom notebook and extra prom decorations and centerpieces to the next generation prom coordinator to stress over*

I, Ivonnee Pedraza, leave behind my inability to arrive to school before 7:28 no matter what time I leave my house.

I, Jake Cook, leave my best personality to the next innocent freshman.

I, Byron Teague, leave my athletic ability to my brother who will be a freshman next year.

I, CJ Scott, leave my ability to drive like no other in all conditions.

I, Carmella Tagliavia, leave my ability to leave classes whenever I want to the next little tan Italian girl.

I, Matthew Seratore, leave my mojo to Kyle Phillips.

I, Renee Tourigny, leave my afro to anyone who wants it.

I, Ethan Diaz, leave my "Yes! Yes! FHS!" Chant to the next Raider.

I, Tim McNamara, leave my hotness to another freshmen dreaming to be as sexy as me.

I, Felisha Laboy, leave my texting to Mrs. Goguen.

I, Tanisha Davila, leave my good behavior and special treatment to my loud-mouth sister, Nikeila Davila!

I, Bianca Louis, leave my singing performance to Xavier.

I, Ashley Barber, leave sleeping in cars first period to the next senior who is tardy more than  $\frac{3}{4}$  of the year.

I, Meagan Dame, leave my over exaggerated pointless stories to the next student who is story-telling challenged.

I, Allison Gray, leave my APbio book to future insane students who think of taking that class.

I, Sky Rosado, leave Michael George my red Micheal Jackson gloves.

I, Ben Less, leave my #14 soccer jersey to my little brother.

I, Mariah Griffith, leave all my James Bond moves in the girls locker room to all the girls tennis team.

I, Marta Giannetti, leave my snuggie to Mr. Hamilton.

I, Caitlin Coleman, leave my art drawer to Kelly M.

I, Nicholas Martinez, leave my lunch table so the next group of freshman will have a place of their own.

I, Anika Dobson, leave my beautiful smile to continue to brighten Mr. D's day.

I, Jasmin DelosSantos, leave my tardiness to my little brother, Miguel Angel DelosSantos.

I, Kelvin Gonzalez (Snack Time), leave my snacks to the next hungry freshman.

I, Alex Smith, leave my golden gloves jacket to Sarah Goodale.

I, Hannah Vaillancourt, leave my volleyball to Susan Orsini.

I, Chris Kelly, leave my shovel to whomever wants it or Quinn.

I, Leon Ngo, leave behind $100 hidden in this school, first to find it keeps it.

I, Meghan Lanni, leave my name to the next 6 Lannis & Room 202a for the next physics students to relax.

I, Christian Delgado, leave my musicality to the next best choir.

I, Sloane White, leave my volleyball skills to my sister.

I, Jacob Christner, leave my skateboard.

I, Courtney Whitshire, leave the knowledge of the Spectrum Club to those who have been seeking help.

I, Ismael Berroa, leave my overload of work to the new freshman.

I, Kellie Mailliet, leave my 'potty mouth' with Mr. O'Neill.

I, Joe Fanelli, leave my carnival skills and abilities to Vac.
